

MEG WHITMAN

Sell It Online

As the Internet continues to evolve and grow, Meg Whitman, president and CEO of eBay, finds newer and more efficient ways of connecting buyers and sellers worldwide. Since joining eBay in 1998, Whitman has led the company to become the world's largest marketplace and the number one online auction house. Each day, eBay members from around the world buy and sell millions of items in thousands of categories, from CDs and DVDs, to autographs and clothes.

Ranked by Worth magazine as 2002's best CEO, Meg Whitman's eBay is reshaping how commerce takes place around the world.
